
TERMS OF USE

EUobserver.com and its content are owned and operated by EUobserver.com ASBL ("EUobserver"). By accessing EUobserver online at www.euobserver.com (the "Site") or by otherwise accessing any content found on this website, you (the "User") are entering into an agreement with EUobserver and agree to this Terms of Use (the "Terms").

EUobserver reserves the right to make changes to the Terms. This may be in relation to changes in the law, best practice or changes in our services. These changes will be reflected in the Terms, so you should check from time to time for the most updated Terms on our website.

1. Intellectual Property: The contents and design of the Site and any material e-mailed to you or otherwise supplied to you in conjunction with the Site (such contents, design and materials being collectively referred to as "Content"), is copyright of EUobserver. You may not use or reproduce or allow anyone to use or reproduce any trade marks (such as EUobserver's name and logo or other trade names appearing on the Site) for any reason without written permission from EUobserver. The software that operates the Site is proprietary software and you may not use it except as expressly allowed under these Terms. You may not copy, reverse engineer, modify or otherwise deal with the software.
2. Use of Content: All content is strictly for personal, non-commercial use only. You may retrieve and display Content from the Site on a computer screen or mobile device. You may not modify the copies of any EUobserver Content in any way and may not use any illustrations, photographs, video/audio sequences, or any graphics separately from the accompanying text. EUobserver as authors of the Content must always be acknowledged. Except as expressly permitted above, you may not reproduce, modify or in any way commercially exploit any Content. But without limiting the general application of the restrictions in the previous sentence, you may not do any of the following without prior written permission from EUobserver:
 - a) Reproduce or store in or transmit to any other website, newsgroup, mailing list, electronic bulletin board, server or other storage device connected to a network or regularly or systematically store in electronic or print form, all or any part of EUobserver Content; or
 - b) Modify, publish, transmit, participate in the transfer or sale of, reproduce, create derivative works from, distribute, perform, display, or in any way exploit all or any part of EUobserver Content (including as part of any library, archive or similar service) without the prior written consent of EUobserver; or
 - c) Remove the copyright or trade mark notice from any copies of EUobserver Content made under these Terms.

In addition to the terms and conditions above, registered users that are part of a group or corporate subscription account may not reproduce, retransmit, photocopy, distribute, disseminate, publish, broadcast, or circulate any EUobserver Content to anyone who is not a registered user without prior written consent from EUobserver.

Any use of EUobserver Content not specifically permitted above is expressly prohibited. Requests for permission for other uses may be sent to the EUobserver Subscription Services, subscriptions@euobserver.com, and may be subject to a fee.

If it is determined that you are not in compliance with the Terms, EUobserver reserves the right to take such action as deemed necessary, including but not limited to suspension or termination of access to the Site as well as retroactive charges and penalty fees for all extraordinary use of the Site and Content.

3. Registration, Passwords and Responsibilities: You are responsible for keeping your information and passwords up to date and confidential. Certain areas or features of the Site may only be open to registered users. You are solely responsible for the confidentiality and use of and access to EUobserver Content and the Site using your user name and/or password. You agree to immediately notify EUobserver if you become aware of the loss, theft or unauthorised use of any password, user ID or e-mail address or of any Content. You will provide EUobserver with accurate, complete registration information and inform EUobserver of any changes to such information.

For confirming your compliance with these Terms, EUobserver reserves the right to monitor and record activity on the Site, including access to EUobserver Content. If it is determined that you are not in compliance with the Terms, EUobserver reserves the right to take such action as deemed necessary, including but not limited to suspension or termination of access to the Site as well as retroactive charges and penalty fees for all extraordinary use of the Site and Content.

Each registration and subscription are for your own use only. You may not share your log in details or password with any other person. You may not share or transfer your subscription. EUobserver does not allow multiple users (networked or otherwise) to access the Site and Content through a single name and password and may cancel or suspend your access to the Site if you do this without further obligation to you.

4. Subscription and Cancellation: EUobserver offers individual, group and corporate subscriptions. EUobserver reserves the right to vary the amount of content and types of service that it makes available to users at any time.

EUobserver will try to process your subscription promptly but does not guarantee that your subscription will be activated by any specified time. By submitting your payment and other subscription details, you are making an offer to us to buy a subscription. Your offer will only be accepted by us and a contract formed when we have successfully verified your payment and contact details, at which point we will provide you with access to the subscription. You will receive written confirmation when your subscription offer has been accepted (beginning the fulfilment of a subscription does not signify acceptance).

Renewal: Unless specifically stated in any subscription offer or promotion when you place your subscription order with us, you agree that your Subscription will, at the end of the initial subscription period (and of each renewal period thereafter), automatically be renewed for the same subscription period at our yearly rate. You may cancel your subscription at any time as set out below.

Cancellation: Unless specifically stated in any subscription offer or promotion when you place your Subscription order, you have the right to cancel your subscription at any time. Cancellations are effective at the end of your current subscription period (the subscription end date indicated on the subscription confirmation notice). You will continue to have the same access and benefits for the remainder of the current subscription period. EUobserver does not issue reimbursements for cancellation.

- 5. Fees and Payments: All payments (including any applicable taxes) must be made in advance in Euros (EUR) or other currency specified by EUobserver. You are responsible for the payment of all charges associated with the use of the Site and Content. If your use of the Site is terminated by EUobserver, you will be entitled to receive a refund of any credits or pre-payments which remain unused at the time of termination unless such use is terminated because you are in breach of these Terms. You will continue to be responsible for any fees or other charges you have incurred prior to such termination. All subscription below five users should be paid using a credit card.

If User is charged via an invoice, User shall pay EUobserver immediately upon receipt of invoice and no later than fourteen (14) days from the date of receipt of invoice. If User fails to pay within thirty (30) calendar days from the payment due date, EUobserver may charge User a late payment daily interest rate equal to 10% per annum for each day in which payment is late.

- 6. Privacy Policy and Cookies info: <https://euobserver.com/static/privacy>

External links: Our websites may, from time to time, contain links to external sites. EUobserver is not responsible for the privacy policies or the content of such sites and we recommend that you read the privacy policies on any external sites you use.

- 7. Changes to the Site: EUobserver reserves the right, in its discretion and at any time, to suspend, change, modify, add or remove portions of EUobserver Content available on the Site.
- 8. Liability and Indemnity: All EUobserver Content and services are provided 'as is'. You indemnify us. Although we endeavour to ensure the high quality and accuracy, EUobserver makes no warranty, express or implied concerning the Site and its Content, which are provided "as is". EUobserver expressly disclaims all warranties, including but not limited to warranties of fitness for a particular purpose and warranties of merchantability. In no event will EUobserver be liable for direct, special, incidental, or consequential damages (including, without limitation, damages for loss of business profits, business interruption, loss of business information or other pecuniary loss) that may arise directly or indirectly from the use of (or failure to use) or reliance on the Site and Content, even if EUobserver has been advised of the possibility that such damages may arise.

EUobserver does not guarantee the accuracy, content, or timeliness of the Site or Content or that they are free from viruses or other contaminating or destructive properties. Upon EUobserver's request, you agree to defend, indemnify and hold harmless EUobserver from any claims and expenses, including reasonable legal fees, related to any breach of these Terms by you or your use of the Site and Content.

- 9. Force Majeure: EUobserver will not be held responsible for circumstances beyond its control. EUobserver will not be liable or deemed to be in default for any delay or failure in performance or interruption of the delivery of Content that may result directly or indirectly from any cause or circumstance beyond its or their reasonable control, including but not limited to failure of electronic or mechanical equipment or communication lines, telephone or other interconnect problems, computer viruses, unauthorised access, theft, operator errors, severe weather, earthquakes or natural disasters, strikes or other labour problems, wars, or governmental restrictions.
- 10. Miscellaneous: Additional terms apply to your use of EUobserver's Site and Content.

Changes to these Terms. EUobserver may, in its discretion, change these Terms (including those that relate to your use of the Site and Content). If you use the Site and Content after EUobserver has published or notified you of the changes, you are agreeing to be bound by those changes. If you do not agree to be bound by those changes, you should not use the Site or Content any further after they are published.

Advertising, Third Party Content and other Web Sites. Parts of the Site and Content may contain advertising or other third-party content. Advertisers and other content providers are responsible for ensuring that such material complies with international and national law. EUobserver is not responsible for any third-party content or error, or for any omission or inaccuracy in any advertising material. The Site and Content may also contain links to other web sites. EUobserver is not responsible for the availability of these websites or their content.

Assignment of Agreement. This agreement is personal to you and your rights and obligations under these Terms may not be assigned, sub-licensed or otherwise transferred. This agreement may be assigned to a third party by EUobserver.

Non-Waiver. No delay or omission on the part of either party in requiring performance by the other party of its obligations will operate as a waiver of any right.

Notices. Notices to EUobserver must be given in writing and sent to subscriptions@euobserver.com as well as EUobserver.com, Avenue d'Auderghem 150, 1040 Brussels, Belgium.

Severability/Survival/Statute of Limitations. If any provision of these Terms is invalid or unenforceable, such will not render all the Terms unenforceable or invalid. Rather, the Terms will then be read and construed as if the invalid or unenforceable provision(s) are not contained therein.

Whole Agreement. Save as expressly referred to herein, any representation, warranty, term or condition not expressly set out in these Terms shall not apply.

Headings. Headings in these Terms are for convenience only and have no legal meaning or effect, nor shall they be taken into account in interpreting these Terms.

Term and Termination: EUobserver may terminate or suspend your access at any time. EUobserver may, in its discretion, terminate or suspend your access to and/or use of all or part of the Site and Content with or without cause by delivering notice to you. These rights of termination are in addition to all other rights and remedies available to EUobserver under these Terms or by law.

Governing Law and Jurisdiction: These Terms shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Kingdom of Belgium. The parties irrevocably agree that the courts of Belgium shall (subject to the paragraph below) have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any dispute which may arise out of, under, or in connection with these Terms or the legal relationship established by them, and for those purposes irrevocably submit all disputes to the jurisdiction of the Belgian courts.

For the exclusive benefit of EUobserver, EUobserver shall also retain the right to bring proceedings as to the substance of the matter in the courts of the country of your residence or, where these Terms are entered during your trade or profession, the country of your principal place of business.
